ANGELS AND BEACH PIT BBQ ANNOUNCE 2011 'RALLY READERS' PROGRAM

ANAHEIM, CA – The Angels announced Wednesday the 2011 Rally Readers Program presented by Beach Pit BBQ. Rally Readers is a specially designed program that offers readers under 12 years of age Angels-related incentives to read. All readers who complete their reading logs will receive two tickets to an upcoming Angels home game and be entered for the chance to announce "Play Ball!" prior to the August 23rd game against the Chicago White Sox.

Rally Readers can visit their local Beach Pit BBQ or the Angels' website where they will download their Reading Log. For each hour of reading, the Rally Reader crosses one baseball off their reading log. As the reader crosses 1st, 2nd and 3rd base, he or she can visit Beach Pit BBQ to receive a free item (drum stick, Kids Meal and Basket) at their local Beach Pit BBQ. Once the reader crosses Home Plate, they can return the completed reading log to a local Beach Pit BBQ and will receive two free tickets to an upcoming Angels home game.

One reader from every Beach Pit BBQ location will win four tickets to the August 23rd Angels game and the opportunity to participate in the Rally Readers on-field pre-game ceremony. One grand prize winner will have the opportunity to announce "Play Ball!" prior to the August 23rd game against the Chicago White Sox.

All Rally Readers will also have the opportunity to sign up to take part in the "Reading on the Green" days where the reader and a parent/guardian can join the Angels Strike Force in reading their favorite books on the field. Readers can bring blankets to the ballpark on one of three dates (June 30, July 28 and August 9) and spend time reading on the grass (space is limited and registration is required).

For more information, visit the Community Section of www.angels.com or any of the six Beach Pit BBQ locations (Aliso Viejo, Costa Mesa, Laguna Niguel, Orange, Tustin and Huntington Beach).
